

Risograph

Why be a Sponsor?

Benefits

Being a risograph sponsor is a meaningful way to support creativity, sustainability, and independent art communities all at once. Risograph printing produces bold, vibrant designs that stand out from traditional digital prints, and sponsorship helps artists and small studios afford the materials and equipment needed to keep creating. It also supports local and emerging creators, giving them opportunities to share their work through posters, zines, and publications.

In addition, risograph printing is more environmentally friendly because it often uses soy-based inks and energy-efficient machines, making it a more sustainable choice. Sponsors can also gain visibility within creative communities by having their name or brand featured on printed materials and at events.

Overall, becoming a risograph sponsor allows someone to invest in unique art, support independent creators, and be part of a growing, eco-conscious creative movement.
